

Security

Government software often handles sensitive information, including personal data of citizens, classified documents, and critical infrastructure data. Controlling access helps mitigate the risk of unauthorized access, data breaches, and cyberattacks that could compromise national security or public safety.

Revision #1

Created 28 September 2025 08:45:27 by RISA

Updated 28 September 2025 08:46:07 by RISA